OKLAHOMA
AGRITOURISM

RIDE. DREAM. RELAX.

Farms and ranches across Oklahoma are opening their gates, barn doors and fences, issuing a heartfelt invitation to sample the abundant bounty and natural beauty found in Oklahoma's growing adventure — Agritourism. With up-close insight into one of the world's most enduring enterprises, Agritourism is the intersection of agriculture and tourism, a heady mix of farms, ranches, markets, people, livestock and the culture of the outdoors, guaranteed to surprise and delight.

Oklahoma's rolling hills, prairies and mesas are the perfect setting for superb adventures of all kinds. Whether you're looking for an authentic farm experience, a pastoral setting to pick a peach or milk a goat, or scary twists and turns in a Halloween corn maze, Oklahoma offers some of the finest hospitality west of the Mississippi.

So what are you waiting for? Get going! There are more than 500 Agritourism destinations and events that beckon with plenty of earthy adventures to be harvested and enough bounty to fill a basket, a weekend getaway or weeklong vacation. A complete guide of statewide Agritourism events can be found at TravelOK.com/festivals_and_events.

SURF THIS GUIDE

Valuable information on guest ranches, country stays and trail riding in Oklahoma; a handy reference to a host of ranches and farms offering these services and more; and a fold-out map are just some of what you'll find in this guide. It is packed with everything you need to make your time in Oklahoma a memorable experience. If by some chance you don't find what you're looking for here, head to OklahomaAgritourism.com and load up your digital saddlebag.

Sit tall in the saddle, hold your head up high. Keep your eyes fixed where the trail meets the sky. And live like you ain't afraid to die. And don't be scared, just enjoy your ride.

NEW WEST EXPERIENCES.

OLD WEST CHARM

OKLAHOMA FARMS, RANCHES, LODGES & MORE

Oklahoma's unspoiled rolling hills, prairies and mesas are ideal settings for real Old and New West adventures. Whether you're on the hunt for an authentic Western experience, a thrilling horseback ride on the open prairie, a quiet hike or meditative day of fishing, or a simple retreat from the frantic pace of life, Oklahoma offers some of the finest hospitality west of the Mississippi.

In the late 1800s, new settlements were thriving, and along with the growing towns and cities grew a dawning realization that the rowdy times of the American frontier had ended. Nostalgia for the Wild West's bygone days gave birth to guest ranches where travelers could connect their dreams and fantasies of frontier times to a real-life experience.

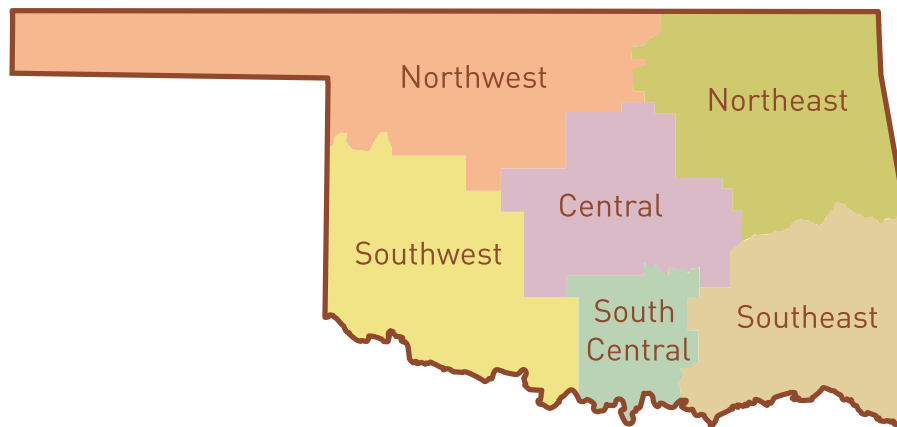

Today's guest ranches offer a host of memory-making activities and modern amenities, along with a chance to reconnect with family or friends while enjoying traditional Western adventures. Many offer horseback riding and trails, and might even provide facilities for stabling your horses if you wish to bring them.

From roundups and chuckwagon dinners, to sophisticated spa treatments and hot tubs, from cowboy poetry to making moccasins, come enjoy Oklahoma's rich Western heritage. Guest ranches offer the chance to revel in the romance of frontier times, but both country stays and guest ranches give visitors a chance to catch their breath, watch clouds race across the sky, or take a leisurely stroll under a night sky filled with shimmering stars.

“ Few cowboys ever owned much. The primary reward of being a cowboy was the pleasure of living a cowboy's life. ”

Our vision brings together the beautiful property of Redberry Farm with more than 55 acres on the W. side of Tulsa. After moving to the property more than 20 years ago, Sandi & Randy Dittmann began the process of turning this beautiful land, which held many homes & buildings, into Redberry Farm. In 2003, a home neighboring the Dittmann's underwent a 6-year renovation turning it into a bed & breakfast, which was named Cedar Rock Inn. Then in 2007, a barn on the property was renovated into what is now called the Silo Event Center, which holds weddings, parties, corporate events, retreats & many other types of events. In the fall of 2010, another home on the property was converted into a vacation rental property that can be used as another great get away spot for out of town guests to enjoy all that Redberry Farm has to offer. Plans are underway to open up 2 additional homes for vacation rental properties.
