Why Do This?

- Increase your bottom line
- Provide a service to your customers
- To have an influence the image of your weddings

How Do You Do This?

- Look around and identify a place that could be used as a warehouse
  - Possibly create a place

What to Shoot For

- Clean
- Well lit
- Very organized
- Clearly marked quantities & prices
- Clip boards with order sheets ready
  - Items kept in good repair
- Think outside the box – Be creative
- Prepared to show your inventory on the first visit

Where to Start

- Look around your place – storage buildings, sheds, barns, attics, garages, basements (serves dual purpose!)
  - Go junkin', garage sales, estate sales, family & friends
    - Purchase new
- Don't put yourself in debt filling a warehouse! Start slowly and build up
  - PROVIDE QUALITY RENTALS

Clearly communicate IN WRITING who is responsible for what.
Who will set up, break down, pay for damaged or stolen items, etc.

What the rental cost.

Begin to build something now of value that will increase your bottom line along the way.
